THREE CENTS

Prison Conference

Judge John J. Connelly, presiding justice of the Boston Juvenile Court, will be one of the principal speakers at the second annual crime prevention conference of the United Prison Association of Massachusetts, to be held at the Northfield Hotel Chateau Thursday, August 1, at 3 P. M.

Other speakers will be J. Paul Doyle, Commissioner of Correction. and Henry J. Mascarello, executive secretary of the United Prison Association. Dr. Miriam VanWaters, superintendent of the Reformatory for Women at Framingham will preside.

General theme of the conference will be "Combatting Crime in the Postwar Period." Judge Connelly will discuss juvenile delinquency as related to the postwar crime wave and Commissioner Doyle will tell of the prison problems caused by the increased crime rate. Mr. Mascarello will discuss the general crime problem and will describe the work of the United Prison Association which is full of human interest.

Gets Sister By Air

Miss Nancy Lee Cooper, of Woodstock, N. Y., is a licensed pilot and has a younger sister, Miss Joan Cooper, a student at the Northfield School for Girls. During the recent railroad strike she wanted her sister home to attend a party to be given in honor of her engagement to Frederick Lee Moore, Jr., of Ardsley on the Hudson, and so made a joudney by plane from the Kingston (N. Y.) airport, where she garages her own plane, to Turners Falls airport where she met her sister and returned in time for the event.

Miss Nancy Cooper is a graduate of the Northfield School and from Stephens College in Missouri and enjoys the sport of flying. Mr. Moore is attending Princeton University, has spent three years and over as a Navy pilot in both Atlantic and Pacific areas and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. The daily newspaper of Kingston published a most interesting article on the flight to Northfield.

One of the leading organizers of lems and the rehabilitation of disthe crime prevention conference is charged prisoners. The conference is Mrs. William R. Moody, who has open to the public and all are invited

Teachers Wanted

Our local school committee is beset with problems endeavoring to secure new teachers to take the place of those who have resigned. Supt. Robert N. Taylor has the job on his hands with its responsibility. Those resigning are Mrs. Catherine Sheldon. grade seven; Mrs. Elizabeth Mayberry, high school and social studies; Mrs. George Leonard, music supervisor; Miss Arlene French, grade two; Miss Betty Southwick, home economics; Miss Mary Smyth, commercial; Miss Marjorie Tyler, now married, and Mrs. Mary Coleman.

Mrs. Ruth Stebbins, of Northfield, a graduate of Lowell State Teachers' College, and a former Northfield teacher, has been engaged as music supervisor. Harold McLean, of Athol, has been engaged as social studies teacher in the high school with three periods a day of social study work in the center school. McLean is a graduate of M. S. C., class of 1942, and is a student at the graduate school there.

Bartus Wins

A dog owned by Joseph Bartus of this town, named "Daylight," won first place and $1,000 at the tenth annual American 'Coon Dog Derby at Hyde Park, N. Y., July 6 and 7, in competition with 300 others. The dog, crowned the American grand national 'coon hound line champion for 1946, has won a total of seven straight victories.

Mississippi Daylight recently took awards at trials in Spencer and Brookfield, and in Norwich, Conn. He was trained by Bartus, who has owned him for more than a year. The dog is 2 years old.

To Wed In Chapel

Saturday afternoon, July 27, at 4 o'clock will take place in Russell Sage Chapel on the campus of the Northfield School for Girls, the wedding of Miss Cora Lee Gethman, daughter of Mrs. Walter W. Gethman, of the factulty of the school, and Julian Howard Gibbs, son of the founder of the Eagle Brook School of

Fawn Enjoys Zoo

A fawn, probably frightened by a dog, ran directly into the lap of two ehildren of Mr. MacIntyre, night watchman at East Hall on the campus of the School for Girls, at his home recently. The children captured the animal and since the law prevents its keeping by an individual, the game warden at Greenfield was notified and he took it to the Forest Park Zoo at Springfield where it seems happy and contented and friendly to the children who visit. A picture of the fawn at the zoo was recently printed in a Springfield paper. The MacIntyre family reside near the woodlands east of Birnam Road.

Deerfield. A large number of friends have been invited to attend.

the telephone for conducting more and more of their business and personal affairs. They use it for such essential activities as ordering repairs; keeping in touch with buyers; handling produce; selling direct to consumers; and ordering feed and supplies.

That's why we're carrying out a comprehensive program for making the telephone available to more New England farmers and for improving the present quality of service. Right now, for example, we're furnishing without charge a half mile, rather than a quarter mile, of pole line fixtures and circuit. In the years ahead, we'll be reducing the number of subscribers on any rural line (eventually there will be no more than eight); converting more and more areas to dial service; bringing in new and improved types of equipment. Over $4,000,000 will be spent on this big job just as fast as manpower and materials

About half the families in New England rural areas now have telephone service. In the days ahead, the telephone will be doing an even bigger and better farm job throughout New England.

How long since you've taken the family swimming?

Long hours beside a blue, blue lake . . . a sparkling rainbow of spray kicked up in a crystal stream . . . wonderful summer moments, free for the asking here in western Massachusetts. What could be more refreshing than idling away a blistering July day in the cool waters of your favorite swimming place? Why not pack up the whole family and have a real swimming party. There's nothing like it!

Red Cross Activities

Mrs. D. F. Sutherland, of Parker Ave., who is production chairman for Northfield for the Red Cross, reports that the members of her committee have done splendid work from 1940 to 1946 and she is proud of their record. There were 979 knitted articles made which included beanies, sweaters, socks, panty suits, mittens, sea boots, wristers, gloves, bed socks, Joan Davis walking cast to socks and toddlers' packs. Certificates are being given out to workers who put in 200 hours. The report does not include the work of sewing done.

For McAll Mission

It was a most commendable undertaking for the summer residents to sponsor a benefit tea in aid of the T B children of the McAll Mission in France when Miss Therese Simar opened her artistic home on Rustic Ridge Tuesday afternoon, July 23, from 3 to 5 o'clock, Miss Simar was assisted by a group of women who acted as associate hostesses and from the sale of tea and art objects a goodly sum was realized. Miss Simar's cottage, known to all summer residents as "La Chaumiere," was finely adapted for the social event and its purpose to ultimately assist in saving the youth of France from the' dreaded disease was most commendable. A large number of friends were in attendance.
